

72 Band Of Bandits

The fall of the society you all were raised to know, is over. I was a survivor living in the remote wilderness in the tradition of the dark earth builders with earth clay straw wood and paper mixed with crete. I learned to read at a young age a book called ABC 123 then all the books I could find I read books on building the pioneer way. The water is filtered rain water indoor garden with solar pannels made from pop cans and copper wire. Living small with my hydrogen powered autocyple,

I was a warrior but I was a gardener, food for life, a book the square foot gardener by growing micro greens and using a solar dehydrator I lived many years in a remote location,

I make music with odd instruments. I performed for cityiots and skids for supplies these guys would come up from the city underbelly subcity tunnel dwellers like orks of the fairy tales of d and d . My dwelling was equipped with computers and many modern amenity fridge stove non of these things are what you would think of as home but more glamping style.

The crew that came up were the 72 Band OF Bandits of 72BOB our handle on the olderweb a secret self established intrenet mock up with boosters bouncing to satellite that were used for T.V. Phone Life itself was held in a signal and beamed to the stars imagine we came from the stars as light and know we hit such a reliance on the satellite that we went satellite like a star. I stay for weeks in the city scum to explore and collect useful things never food except in the spring time wild apples have seeds but the spray of the day from a long time ago still poisons all soil for smaller plants like food. I love raisins and grapes they are so versatile as food drink. I grow things like weed and poppies as well as make wine it makes me popular in the city so I can come and go as I please. I have maps I have made that I trade the 02Foofighters the numbers of the crew go along with the date of birth there is no birthdays we have nothing so we keep track of ages and knowledge by years born I was part of the 72Band of Bandits.

The guys needed to rally the skid warriors the bandits the death city rockers and the zombastards as there was more groups overwhelming the city walls order was always the threat to the city the law He who orders the chaos shall rule the generations of the future tense and the past shall be retold in the favor of the victor. We battle the organizers that always try to tell the simpler folks that they will protect them they will pay but with all the chaos the only order is the mood of some dudes the way of the day, what we feel is how we act don't feel bad and you won't feel bad. We trade but when we play shows we also make food and trade like a show and bizarre market people love our shows music is a thing long gone but not ever forgotten.

One radio station still broadcasts on short wave ham and FM WMFPN 92.1 after my last show I was approached to make these discs.

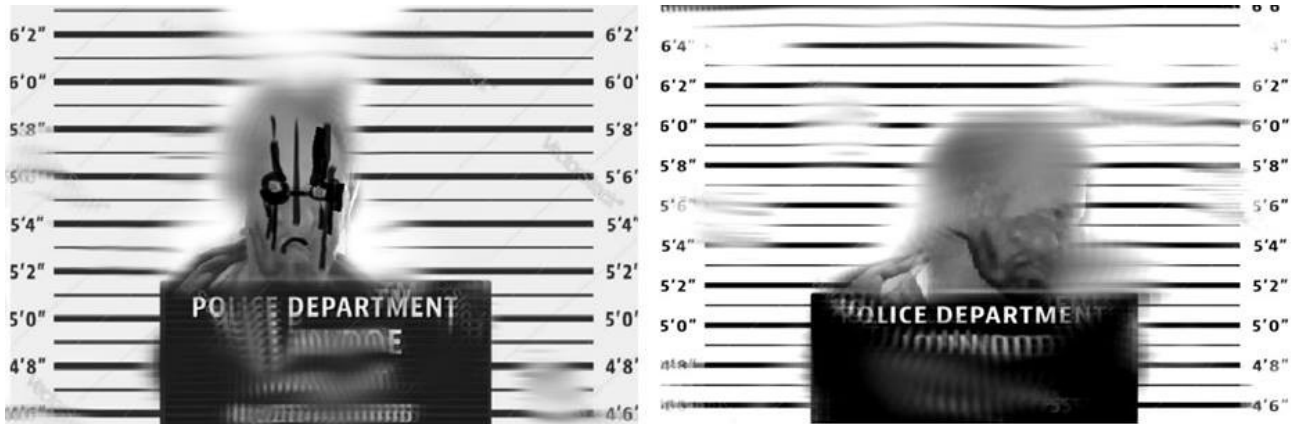

Spade metal: as well as the two outtakes albums.

Out takes 72 band of bandits is on arrested development. There is a lot of music made in the time of 72BOB but you will have to keep reading and following to find out about THIS:

with order comes rules and punishments.

The war was a story told by music over the albums of metal but the story of the waist-land is a journey that is best left to those who dare see the world with out a vial is stark and filled with no hope mega dope feel numb so they can't see the world that was and the have to live in the world that is...
